IN THE DISTRICT COURT

OF DALLAS COUNTY, TEXAS

191ST JUDICIAL DISTRICT

PETITION IN INTERVENTION AND REQUEST FOR DECLARATORY JUDGMENT OF TECHNIFY MOTORS GMBH

Comes now Technify Motors GmbH and files this Petition in Intervention and Request for Declaratory Relief, alleging as follows:

DISCOVERY

1. Plaintiffs have alleged that discovery in this action is intended to be conducted under Level 3 in accordance with Rule 190.4 of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure.

PARTIES

2. Plaintiff Superior Air Parts, Inc. ("Superior") is a Texas corporation having its principal place of business in Coppell, Texas, Dallas County. On December 31, 2008, Superior filed a voluntary petition for bankruptcy pursuant to Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy

Code. On August 27, 2009, Superior's Plan of Reorganization was confirmed. The Plan went into effect on September 28, 2009.

3. Plaintiff Weifang Freesky Aviation Technology Co., Ltd. ("Freesky") is a business entity organized under the laws of the People's Republic of China, having its principal place of business in China. Freesky acquired the stock of Superior in or about 2009.

4. Plaintiff Superior Aviation Beijing Co., Ltd. ("SAB") is a business entity organized under the laws of the People's Republic of China, having its principal place of business in China. SAB is the successor in interest to Freesky with respect to Superior's stock.

5. Defendant Bruno Kübler ("Kübler") in his capacity as the insolvency administrator for Thielert Aircraft Engines GmbH, is an individual residing in the Republic of Germany.

6. Defendant Thielert Aircraft Engines GmbH ("TAE") is a corporation duly organized and existing under the laws of the Republic of Germany, and was, until recently, the manufacturer of reciprocating diesel engines for general aviation aircraft.

7. Intervenor Technify Motors GmbH ("Technify") is a corporation duly organized and existing under the laws of the Republic of Germany, having its principal place of business at St. Egidien, Germany.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

8. Plaintiffs have alleged that this Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this case because Plaintiffs seek monetary damages within the jurisdictional limits of the Court, and because Plaintiffs seek injunctive relief. Plaintiffs further allege that this Court has personal jurisdiction over the Defendants under Texas' long-arm statute, Tex. Civ. Prac. & Rem. Code §§ 17.041 et seq., and that the exercise of personal jurisdiction is consistent with federal and state constitutional due process guarantees. Plaintiffs further allege that Defendants entered into a Supplier Agreement with Superior, that the contract by its terms was to be performed in whole or in part in Texas, and that the parties expressly consented to jurisdiction and venue in Dallas County, Texas.

THE ORIGINAL COMPLAINT

9. On August 21, 2014, Plaintiffs filed their Original Petition for money damages and injunctive relief. In their Original Petition, Plaintiffs alleged that Superior is an original equipment manufacturer and Federal Aviation Administration (“FAA”) type certificate holder for an aviation gasoline (“Avgas”) powered piston aircraft engine and related parts. Plaintiffs further alleged that Superior is also the holder of numerous Parts Manufacturing Approvals (“PMAs”) issued by the FAA to Superior authorizing Superior to manufacture various replacement aircraft parts for Avgas powered engines originally manufactured by Lycoming Engines and Continental Motors.

10. Plaintiffs allege that as a manufacturer of aircraft engines and parts it used multiple suppliers, and that Defendants were one of Superior’s suppliers. Plaintiffs allege that Superior entered into a Supplier Agreement with Defendants, and that in connection with the Supplier Agreement, Superior entrusted to Defendants “various design drawings, engineering orders, casting/forging/drawings and test reports containing Superior’s Intellectual Property. . . .” Plaintiffs allege that under the terms of the Supplier Agreement, Defendants agreed to maintain the confidentiality of Superior’s drawings, data, and information, and that Defendants agreed to return the drawings, data, and information upon termination of the Supplier Agreement. Plaintiffs allege, however, that upon termination of the Supplier Agreement Superior requested that Defendants return “Superior’s Intellectual Property” and Defendants only partially complied with Superior's request. Plaintiffs' Original Petition seeks money damages and an injunction enjoining Defendants from reproducing, using, selling or transferring "Superior's Intellectual Property", and forcing Defendants to return all of "Superior's Intellectual Property" back to Superior.

11. According to Superior's Original Petition, Kübler has, since the closing, returned to Superior "700 drawings created by Superior." Superior alleges that Kübler has retained "hundreds of 3D computer assisted design ("CAD") models created using Superior's drawings, data and information for approximately 362 aircraft parts for which Superior hold the exclusive PMA or type certificate. . . " and "hundreds of 2D drawings likewise created using Superior's drawings, data and information"

TECHNIFY SATISFIES THE REQUIREMENTS FOR INTERVENTION

12. Rule 60 of the Texas Rules of Civil Procedure provides that "[a]ny party may intervene by filing a pleading subject to being stricken out by the court for sufficient cause on the motion of any party." To intervene successfully, a party must generally show that he has standing to maintain an original suit. Quiroz v. Gray, 2014 WL 1672045 * 4 (Tex. App. – El Paso); Segovia-Slape v. Paxson, 893 S.W.2d 694, 696 (Tex. App. – El Paso 1995 orig. proceeding). Where the intervenor makes a showing that (1) he could have brought the same action in his own name; (2) intervention would not have complicated the case; and (3) intervention was essential to protect his legal and equitable interests, it is an abuse of discretion to strike the plea in intervention. Quiroz, 2014 WL 1672045 at 5, citing Guaranty Federal Sav. Bank v. Horseshoe Operating Co., 793 S.W.2d 652, 657 (Tex. 1990); Orion Reining Corp. v. UOP, 259 S.W.3d 31, 749,777 (Tex. App.-Houston 2007).

13. On July 22, 2013, Technify closed on an asset acquisition which gave it the sole and exclusive right to manufacture the Thielert line of aircraft diesel engines and aftermarket diesel engine parts. The acquisition included certain tangible and intangible assets that Superior now claims that it owns and that is the subject of the Original Petition (collectively referred to hereinafter as the "Property At Issue"). To date, Technify has received neither all nor part of the Property At Issue, which remains in the sole possession, custody, and control of Kübler.

14. In a letter dated April 24, 2013, Superior notified Kübler that in accordance with Superior's Plan of Reorganization and Confirmation Order, Superior was requesting the return of the Property At Issue. Technify did not learn about Superior's claim until just prior to closing, when it came into possession of another letter from Superior dated July 9, 2013, reiterating Superior's request for return of the Property At Issue.

15. Due to the uncertainty created by Superior's claim, Kübler and Technify agreed to segregate the Property At Issue from the rest of the Thielert assets and to proceed with the closing with the understanding that there would be no transfer of the Property At Issue until a final legal determination has been reached on the issue whether Kübler can transfer the Property At Issue to Technify or whether Kübler must transfer the Property At Issue to Superior.

16. In the meantime, Kübler has acknowledged Technify's claim to the Property At Issue, and Kübler and Technify have agreed that in the event the Property At Issue cannot be transferred to Technify, Technify will be entitled to assert its claim against Kübler, on the condition that Kübler's potential damages will be limited to the sum of EUR 3,500,000. If the property cannot be transferred to Technify, then Technify's damages will far exceed EUR 3,500,000 and Technify contends that it will be entitled to the full EUR 3,500,000.

17. Under the facts set forth above, Intervenor clearly has satisfied the standards for intervention. Intervenor has an interest in the Property At Issue, because Technify purchased the Property At Issue as part of its acquisition of the Thielert assets, and could have brought an action against both Superior and Kübler to assert its claim to the Property At Issue. Technify's petition for intervention cannot be said to have complicated Superior's action against Kübler and Thielert, since the Original Lawsuit has only been pending since August 21, 2014, and no proceedings of any substance have yet taken place. Finally, Technify needs to intervene in the action to protect its legal and equitable interests in the disposition of the Property At Issue, which is the subject of the Original Lawsuit.

18. For the foregoing reason, Technify intervenes in this action pursuant to Texas Rule of Civil Procedure 60.

COUNT I

REQUEST FOR DECLARATORY JUDGMENT

19. Intervenor realleges the facts set forth above and incorporates them by reference herein.

20. Under Section 37.002 of the Texas Civil Practice & Remedies Code, the purpose of a declaratory judgment is "to settle and to afford relief from uncertainty and insecurity with respect to rights, status and other legal relations; and it is to be liberally construed and administered."

21. Technify has a justiciable interest in the Property At Issue by virtue of its acquisition of the Thielert assets (including the Property At Issue) and asks the Court to determine the respective rights of Superior, Kübler and Technify to the Property At Issue in the possession, custody and control of Kübler.

22. If the Court determines that Technify has no rights in the Property At Issue and/or that Kübler cannot transfer the Property At Issue to Technify, then Technify asks that Court to determine the damages owed to Technify by Kübler.

COUNT II

CONTRACT DAMAGES

23. Intervenor realleges the facts set for the above and incorporates them by reference herein.

24. In connection with the purchase of the Thielert assets, Kübler and Technify have agreed that, in the event of a legal determination that Kübler must transfer the Property At Issue to Superior, Technify will have a claim for damages against Kübler not to exceed EUR 3,500,000.

25. If the Court determines that Technify has no rights in the Property At Issue and/or that Kübler cannot transfer the Property At Issue to Technify and/or the Property At Issue is awarded to Superior, Technify's damages will far exceed the sum of EUR 3,500,000.

26. Technify therefore prays for contract damages against Kübler the amount of EUR 3,500,000.

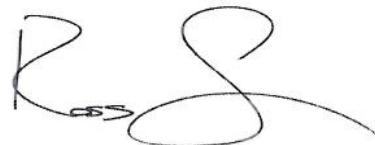

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Intervenor respectfully prays that this Court:

1. Issue a declaratory judgment determining the rights of Superior, Kübler, and Technify to the Property At Issue;

2. If the Court determines that Technify has no rights in the Property At Issue and/or that Kübler cannot transfer the Property At Issue to Technify, then Technify asks that Court to determine the damages owed to Technify by Kübler;
3. Issue a judgment in Technify's favor against Kübler in the amount of EUR 3,500,000; and
4. Grant such other further relief as it deems proper and just.

Respectfully submitted,

By: _____

DEFENDANTS' ORIGINAL ANSWER

Bruno Kübler, in his capacity as Insolvency Administrator of Thielert Aircraft Engines GMBH (the "Insolvency Administrator") and Thielert Aircraft Engines GmbH ("TAE"), Defendants in the above-referenced entitled and numbered cause, files this their Original Answer to Plaintiffs' Original Petition and in support thereof would respectfully show the Court the following:

I.

GENERAL DENIAL

Defendants the Insolvency Administrator and TAE generally deny all the allegations contained in Plaintiff's Original Petition and demand strict proof thereof.

II.

VERIFIED DENIAL

Defendants deny that TAE is a proper party to this action or that it has the legal capacity to be sued. Under German insolvency law, because TAE is currently in insolvency proceedings in Germany, the right to manage and transfer the insolvency estate is vested in the Insolvency Administrator.

WHEREFORE, PREMISES CONSIDERED, Defendants pray that all relief requested by Plaintiffs be denied; that Plaintiffs take nothing against Defendants; that Defendants recover their costs and attorney's fees; and that Defendants recover such other and further relief, at law or in equity, to which they may be justly entitled.

DEFENDANTS' FIRST AMENDED ANSWER

Bruno Kübler, in his capacity as Insolvency Administrator of Thielert Aircraft Engines GMBH (the "Insolvency Administrator") and Thielert Aircraft Engines GmbH ("TAE"), Defendants in the above-referenced entitled and numbered cause, files this their First Amended Answer to Plaintiffs' Original Petition and in support thereof would respectfully show the Court the following:

I.

GENERAL DENIAL

1. Defendants the Insolvency Administrator and TAE generally deny all the allegations contained in Plaintiff's Original Petition and demand strict proof thereof.

II.

VERIFIED DENIAL

2. Defendants deny that TAE is a proper party to this action or that it has the legal capacity to be sued. Under German insolvency law, because TAE is currently in insolvency proceedings in Germany, the right to manage and transfer the insolvency estate is vested in the Insolvency Administrator.

III.

AFFIRMATIVE AND OTHER DEFENSES

3. Plaintiffs' Petition fails to state a claim on which relief can be granted.

4. Plaintiffs' claims are barred in whole or in part by the release.

5. Plaintiffs' claims are barred in whole or in part by laches.

6. Plaintiffs' claims are barred in whole or in part by the applicable statute of limitations.

7. Plaintiffs' claims are barred in whole or in part by estoppel and/or waiver.

8. Plaintiffs claims, in whole or in part, are not ripe for adjudication.

9. Plaintiffs, collectively and singularly, are not entitled to recover punitive or exemplary damages because the requirements of applicable law regarding such damages are not met by the facts set forth in the Petition. Defendants further assert that any award of punitive or exemplary damages in this case would violate the Due Process clauses contained in the Texas Constitution and the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution. Alternatively, Defendants invoke the limitations on the amount of recovery of exemplary damages under Texas law. See Tex. Civ. Prac. & Rem. Code § 41.008.

WHEREFORE, PREMISES CONSIDERED, Defendants pray that all relief requested by Plaintiffs be denied; that Plaintiffs take nothing against Defendants; that Defendants recover their costs and attorney's fees; and that Defendants recover such other and further relief, at law or in equity, to which they may be justly entitled.
